

What are we learning this week

5th June!

Welcome back after the May holidays. We have been hearing all the wonderful things you have been doing during the holidays. This week we will be starting our new topic of Down on the farm. In art, we will be using junk modelling to make our own farms.

We will be exploring the different types of farms there are. Looking at what we might find on our working farms and talking about our experiences at a farm.

In Literacy - Looking at different types of farms, finding out information from our library.

In ICT we will be taking a trip to our computer room to use the 2-simple program to make our own farm. Navigating around the screen adding animals and machines.

In maths -We will be counting out the farm animals to 10 and starting to count beyond 10. We will be grouping the animals and beginning to represent the number using our fingers and marks on the white board.

In Expressive Arts - we will be painting our farm pictures from the different farm pictures we have seen, using different tools and techniques competently.
